What characteristics identify patients who are good candidates for your brand?	What characteristics identify physicians most likely to prescribe in higher volumes?	What decision milestones and influencers shape behavioral Rx and compliance decisions?	What other treatments do target HCPs consider for target patients when making Rx decisions?	What functional and emotional needs are not sufficiently met by competitors?	What are the unique and relevant functional outcomes for target patients & HCPs?	What are the unique and relevant emotional benefits for target patients & HCPs?

We answer key questions in the launch process

Within our branding framework, there are a number of critical questions that you need to answer to support a successful brand launch.

Competitive Landscape

- Fit in treatment algorithm?
- Rx drivers vs. Table-stakes attributes?
- Differentiators vs. Competitors?

Target Audience

- Treatment flow and decision process?
- Most common rx triggers?
- Psycho- and demographic profile?

Unmet Needs

- Emotional and aspirational needs?
- Functional and lifestyle needs?
- Clinical needs and outcomes?

Emotional Benefits

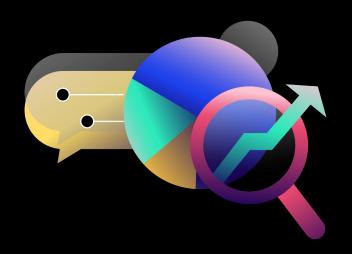

- Brand character and personality?
- Differentiated value proposition?
- Core clinical messages?

Prior to launch, you should have confident answers to your critical questions.

Our process enables you to do just that.

Our diagnostic approach provides you with a customized process

We know that no two brands are alike. Like people, each brand has its own unique personality.

Our diagnostic approach analyzes your brand across five key dimensions. We customize our research launch program based on your brand's unique character.

Why Brand Builder?

Unlike traditional market research services. Brand Builder offers facilitated discovery and decision making that is complete, customized and consultative.

Traditional Market Research

LIMITED

Most solutions focus only on one small part of a brand's lifecycle.

COOKIE-CUTTER

Prioritizing quantity over quality, research vendors offer a one-size-fits-all approach

REACTIVE

Typical services offer little flexibility or adaptations to changing circumstances

Brand Builder

COMPLETE

An integrated program that combines qualitative and quantitative methods to support progress from mid-Phase III through post-launch.

CUSTOMIZED

Includes a diagnostic evaluation and a modular framework that enables us to tailor the research program to your brand and your budget.

CONSULTATIVE

Rather than simply gathering insights, we place insights into a strategic context and work collaboratively to optimize launch
